ON ITS

GOLDEN JUBILEE!

Back in the pioneering days at the turn of the century, we commenced opening branches — and offering the convenience of banking service — to the settlers of what was then known as Assiniboia.

In the years surrounding the province's incorporation in 1905, we opened a score of branches to serve the enterprising thousands who were flooding into Saskatchewan to help build the great province of today.

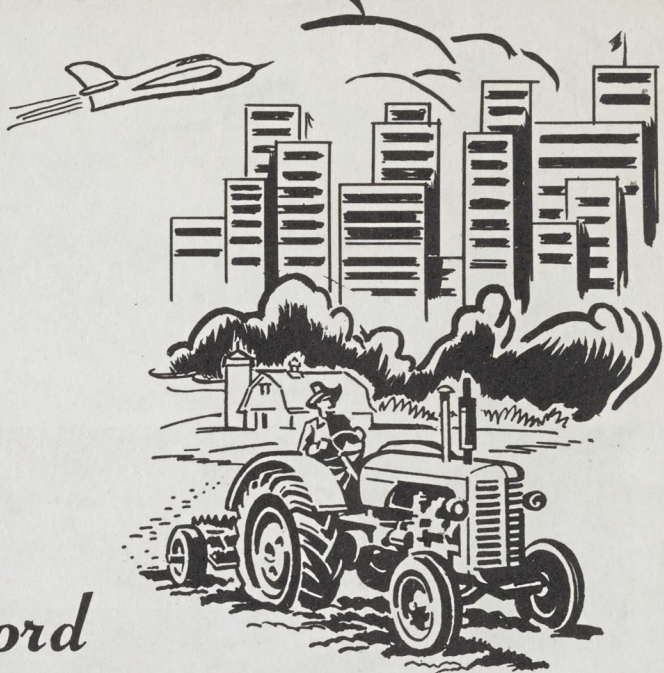

We are happy and proud to have served Saskatchewan from those early days. Our congratulations to the Province of Saskatchewan on its Golden Jubilee and best wishes for its continued growth and even greater prosperity in the years ahead.

Foreword

Monarch Publishing Company presents this Saskatchewan Golden Jubilee Program of Events with the idea in mind of publicizing this our province, as much as possible in 1955, our jubilee year.

In this 128 page booklet we present as much available information as possible on the four major centres of Saskatchewan and their jubilee plans. Naturally this information cannot be complete as plans for some celebrations are not complete and publication of this booklet cannot be held up any longer. We have, however, given as complete a résumé as possible.

We have also tried to make this booklet as attractive as possible as many copies are being distributed throughout North Dakota and Montana as can be witnessed by the sections devoted to these two states in the booklet. The inclusion of these two states in the booklet, while they are technically not involved in our jubilee year, proves once more the friendliness of our two great countries. Many people from North Dakota and Montana come into Saskatchewan to spend their holidays, and likewise, many Saskatchewanites travel south to the cities of these two states for their summer recreation. It was felt by the publisher of this booklet that much good could be done by combining the feelings of friendship that exist between our two countries in this single booklet.

We wish to thank all advertisers for their co-operation in this booklet and hope that all who see it enjoy and use the material in it to the utmost.

The first item Tourists to Saskatchewan will see are these Billboards welcoming them to the Province.

Founder of the LaBelle School

The LaBelle Beauty Clinic opened its doors in Saskatoon twenty-five years ago with premises located on the ground floor of the Canada Building and under the managership and ownership of Mrs. T. M. Guytar.

Today we find the LaBelle Beauty Clinic is operated on the ground floor of the Glen-garry Block under the supervision of Mrs. Anne M. Evans who purchased the business from Mrs. Guytar in 1945.

As well as being one of Saskatoon's most modern and up-to-date beauty clinics, the LaBelle also operates a beauty school for girls wishing to learn the fine arts of Beauty Culture. This school has graduated

Most everyone is growing a beard these days in Swift Current as the people of the Frontier City prepare for the Jubilee year edition of their Frontier Days celebrations. The Frontier Days executive has to set a good example for the rest of the community and this picture shows them sporting their beards. Left to right, they are K. S. Lewis, W. H. Ford, A. K. Culham, president Cliff Shirriff, manager Irving Hansen, D. J. Robinson, Steve Marzek and G. E. Kerley. Those beards should be a lot longer when June 30th rolls around.

MODERN RADIATOR SERVICE

Twenty-five years of experience are behind the business of Modern Radiator Service at 124 Avenue A North in Saskatoon.

Operated by two well-known Saskatoonians, the Folk Brothers, Basil and Joe, Modern Radiator Service has been serving the citizens of Saskatoon and district for the past 14 years. Previous to this they gained experience in this type of work at the Modern Radiator Shop in Regina where they worked for 11 years.

They opened their Saskatoon business on May 6, 1941, in a shop on Third Avenue. In 1948, due to the increase in business, they decided to expand and moved to their present location on Avenue A, where they presently have one of the most modern and up-to-date radiator service shops in Canada. They are also authorized distributors for Harrison Radiators and Cores and McCord Radiators and Cores.

The growth of Modern Radiator Service can be seen by the fact that when the business opened in 1941 they had only one employee. Today they have five men working for them and have hopes that by 1960, due to the tremendously increased use of machinery in these modern times, they will have a staff of 10.

Too few people realize that Saskatchewan contains one of the richest lignite coal deposits in all of North America. Right in the heart of Canada's wheat empire is a mine producing more than 1,000,000 tons of lignite coal annually. Coal used by industries to produce a vast variety of products for home and export: coal used by homes for winter comfort!

Great West Coal Company Limited obtains its Saskatchewan lignite coal production from a wholly-owned subsidiary, Western Dominion Coal Mines Limited — a strip mine located less than 30 miles from the Saskatchewan - North Dakota border.

FULWILER BROTHERS

Fulwiler Brothers, located at 134-22nd Street West has been serving the public in Saskatoon since 1924.

The business was originally operated by H. J. Fulwiler, father of the present owners, who had his first shop located where the Arena Rink now stands and installed Saskatoon's first wheel alignment machine. In 1931 he moved to the present business location. By this time the elder of his two sons, Ross, was working in the business, to be followed by John. In 1942 the two boys were taken into the firm as partners. The elder Mr. Fulwiler passed away in 1944 and the two boys took over the operation of the business.

The boys have slowly added to the business and plan, in the near future, to extend their premises to give better service to their many customers. At present they have two wheel alignment machines, a frame straightener, wheel balance and the only toe-in machine in the city.

Both are active in supporting the Young Men's Board of Trade Safety Campaign with both machinery and time.

The sunken gardens of the Bessborough Hotel provide a perfect setting on a warm summer day.

The Patricia Hotel is one of Saskatoon's more popular stopping places for tourists.

The Dominion Motor Co. Ltd. gives travellers clean, excellent service when they stop over in Saskatoon.

Just after the turn of the century in the period 1905 to 1910, business men of vision saw the potential size of Saskatoon. In 1909 A. L. Koyl left the Bank of Montreal in Lindsay, Ontario, to make his living in the real estate business in Saskatoon and at that time helped form the firm of McDonald, Koyl and Mathews. Many changes have taken place in Saskatoon and Koyl Agencies Limited service to Saskatoon property owners has kept pace with these changes and growth. Today the real estate, insurance, property management and mortgage departments of the Company provide unlimited experience and knowledge. A complete real estate and investment service is at your disposal. We acknowledge that our success depends upon the faith and confidence of the Saskatoon public and pledge ourselves in the future to provide the service which will merit your continued trust.

Serving the Public of Saskatchewan and proudly taking active part in celebrating 50th anniversary.

One of Saskatoon's best-known restaurant operators retired at the start of this Jubilee Year after 45 years in business in this city.

Gus Golf came to Canada from Greece back in 1902 and came to Saskatoon in 1910. The same year he opened his original candy shop and lunch counter. From the start his modest business, which was originally located next to where the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix now stands, thrived. "Gus" next moved to where Caswell's now stands on the corner of Second Avenue and 21st Street, east. He moved and in the process enlarged his business when he opened his present location in the early 20's.

Today we find Gus is retired and his four sons, George, Frank, Peter and Bill are operating the business. We also find that Golf's is undoubtedly the most modern restaurant in the City of Saskatoon, having been renovated in 1953 and an addition known as the "Zebra Room" opened in 1954.

The restaurant portion of the building is famed for its soft lighting and pleasant decorative styling, while the Zebra Room provides Saskatonians with one of their best dine and dance spots in the city.

Paramount Beauty Parlor

More than twenty-years experience are behind the owner and operator of the Paramount Beauty Parlor, Herman Grant Barrett, who conducts his business at 215-23rd Street East, in Saskatoon.

Mr. Barrett got his original training in hairdressing and styling at the LaBelle Beauty Clinic in Saskatoon in 1933 and 1934. Following this he worked at the Coiffure Palace on Second Avenue in Saskatoon. He spent three years in the Air Force during World War Two and in 1945 started a beauty salon at Watrous. He sold this business in 1950 to open up his own shop in Saskatoon and since that time has operated a successful business in this city.

The present business opened in 1950 with just two operators. Today we find that besides Mr. Barrett there is a staff of ten operators and he is looking forward to the day when he can open a school of advanced hair styling in the city.

Typical of new construction being carried on in Saskatoon is this street of new homes located in the south-east section of the city.

Moose Jaw

Third largest of Saskatchewan cities Moose Jaw is often referred to as the "Industrial City of Saskatchewan." A quick glance at her industries shows oil refining, flour and oat milling, meat packing, livestock marketing, millworking, woollen milling, jute bag manufacturing, dairying, seed cleaning, power generating, needle trades, anti-freeze production, foundry castings and so on.

Moose Jaw is served by three rail ways, the C.P.R., (Mainline), C.N.R. and Soo Line direct to Minneapolis, U.S.A. — many industrial, wholesale and distribution firms find Moose Jaw ideally situated to serve the Prairies. In addition to railways there are three main highways, No. 1, Trans-Canada, No. 2, from U.S.A. to Prince Albert, and No. 39, from the International Boundary. Air service includes CPA and TCA. Bus and truck service to all points.

This southern Saskatchewan centre is also located in one of the richest wheat producing areas of the world. Literally millions of dollars worth of wealth is produced annually in this area from hard spring wheat and other grains. Livestock is another major farm industry.

Great activity is also taking place in the oil industry in the Moose Jaw area. Oil has been located at points south-east and north-west of the city. Geophysical crews and drilling rigs are now operating close to the city.

Moose Jaw is at the geographical east-west centre of the province; 398 miles west of Winnipeg; 434 miles east of Calgary; 112 miles north of the International boundary. Regina is 40 miles to the east; Saskatoon 146 miles to the north.

NORTH DAKOTA, U.S.A.

The Citizens and Chamber of Commerce of North Dakota extend greetings to our Saskatchewan neighbours on this their Golden Jubilee, 50 Years of Confederation 1905 to 1955. We wish to join with others in congratulating your pioneers and hope your future will be crowned with health, wealth and happiness in the years to come.

Secretary, Chamber of Commerce

BISMARCK, NORTH DAKOTA, U.S.A.

The history of North Dakota is a glorious epic of achievement by courageous people in decades. It is an inspiring story of the hardihood of pioneer home seekers with limitless spirit and vision who planned and worked out their own future in a land of plenty.

Today, North Dakota is one of the most progressive and prosperous states in our nation. It is a land of unlimited opportunity . . . a land of new frontiers for its own people and for all others with the foresight and courage to join them. With a population of 619,636 persons in 70,665 square miles, there is ample room in North Dakota for thousands of new home seekers. It is a young and virile state, offering opportunity for individuals and industry alike to participate in the vibrant and inspiring tempo of agricultural and industrial development.

This Garden, located on the Canadian-United States Boundary between Manitoba & North Dakota, is 2,400 acres in extent. It was established as a Memorial to the friendship of the two countries and dedicated on July 4, 1932. The first of its kind in the world, it has received the approval of all peace-loving nations. And by reason of its example is destined to become the most famous of ALL GARDENS.

WESTLAND OIL COMPANY

Home Owned Independent
Home Office: MINOT, N.D.

The Westland Oil Company is a Home Owned—Independent Marketer of Petroleum Products, with its home office in Minot, North Dakota.

The company was organized in Scobey, Montana, in 1919 when cars were still few and far between and tractors were even scarcer. With the rapid advance of the automotive age, the company expanded its operations, bulk plants and service stations, in Northeastern Montana and Northwestern North Dakota, and in 1928, moved its home office to Minot.

The company blends motor oils and lubricants sold under its own brand name, Dura. Other brand names used in marketing Westland products include Buffalo Gasoline, Wesco LP-Gas and Westland Furnace Oil. The company markets a number of farm fuels including diesel fuels, white gasoline and tractor fuel.

Westland also distributes U.S. Royal and B.F. Goodrich tires as well as DuPont anti-freeze, A.C., Champion, Fram and other well known automotive lines. Westland serves an area extending from Opheim and Glasgow, Montana to Devils Lake and Jamestown, North Dakota.

STANLEY CITY

Stanley situated as it is on No. 2 U.S. highway at the junction of No. 8 on its western boundary is a thriving community of 2,000 population. No traveller would do justice to this picturesque, clean cut little city without saying truly this is a Beauty Spot.

This neat little city represents the Religious, educational and commercial guidance for not only its permanent residents but also many of it's 6,000 district population.

It has many fine public buildings which are the envy of other towns and cities of greater size. Transportation is very good, as it is on the main Line East to West Great Northern Railway System. This city is also served with Interstate buses on a daily run from Minot to Williston. Its East to West through city highway U.S. No. 2 is asphalt paved while No. 8 running North to South is an all weather gravelled road.

Power is supplied by the Montana-Dakota Power Co. thereby supplying all of the modern facilities that sewer and water can give.

Industrially, there is not much to speak of as the town largely depends on agriculture. State and Federal Departments located here are the P.M.A. (Federal), F.H.A. (Federal), where State Welfare office and a County Court House which houses the Country officers.

Stanley possess an adequate Fire Department with good equipment and operated by a volunteer fire brigade. Stanley's educational needs are served by a Primary and High school. Clubs and Organizations are many, among them are the American Legion Club organized by Veterans of the First World War, Lions International, Commercial Club, Masons, Odd Fellows, Eastern Star, Rainbow and Rod and Gun, Clubs. Entertainment sports etc. are found through its bowling alley, golf course, skeet shooting, basketball and football.

There are two modern motels in the vicinity. Summer Resorts are widespread, the nearest is 28 miles south at the Garrison Dam Reservoir, one of the worlds largest bodies of water.

There are 80 businesses in the city many of them small but of a great variety.

The rich fertile soil around Stanley is of a black loam type, therefore farming is the chief industry. There are two elevators with a total capacity of 200,000 bushels. The average yield of grain is 20 bushels per acre. There are about 15,000 head of cattle roaming the plains of which 20 herds are of purebred stock, there is also some 1,000 pigs and 5,000 sheep in the district. Dairying is confined to a local creamery. There are no fur ranches. The average price of land exclusive of mineral rights is $30.00 per acre.

Stanley is in Mountrail county, North Dakota. The town officers are as follows:

Mayor — Wm. (Bill) Will,

Sec. Treasurer — Carl Erickson

President Commercial Club — Carol D. Anderson

IN THE UNITED STATES DON'T FORGET GASOLINE MEASURE

U.S. and Canadian gasoline measures differ. The basic Canadian measure is the Imperial quart—one-fifth larger than the U.S. quart. Five gallons Canadian equals six U.S. gallons . . . a point to remember when you want your tank filled.

The huge $200 million Garrison Dam, being built on the Missouri River, and scheduled for completion in 1955, will create a lake 200 miles in length. The water will be used to irrigate 1,000,000 acres of semi-arid land. Billions of kilowatts of electricity will be produced annually. Of countrywide importance, the Garrison project will form a vital link in the nation's flood control system. This dam now being constructed only 50 miles from Minot, will be the largest rolled earth dam in the world.

ACCOMMODATION

To be sure of accommodations, make reservations well in advance of your vacation. Rates in lodges and resorts are favorable; for instance, a week's stay in a tourist cabin in a medium-priced resort for a family of four costs about $35.00. At a luxury resort, the same stay would amount to approximately $60.00. Cabin courts and motel prices vary in price from about $6.00 to $10.00 per day.

CUSTOMS

Regulations are simple at the 49th parallel. You require no passport, but take a birth certificate or some means of identification to produce as proof of U.S. citizenship on your return. Personal effects, including cameras, sports equipment, are duty-free and require no permit.

Pet dogs must be accompanied by a certificate from a licensed veterinarian, showing the animal is free from contagious disease and has been vaccinated against rabies within the past six months.

FISHING AND HUNTING

Licenses are required for all non-resident hunters and anglers. Individual fishing licenses are available at tackle and sporting goods stores throughout the province. Full information on limits, open seasons, etc., is contained in the official hunting and angling regulations pamphlets, which are available on request.

YOUR U.S. DOLLARS

Rates of exchange on Canadian-U.S. dollars vary from day to day now that Canadian dollars are traded on a free market. A glance at the financial pages of your daily newspaper will tell you the current exchange rates. Don't worry if you should run short of Canadian dollars. U.S. bills are accepted everywhere—as are travellers' cheques.

CITY OF MALTA MONTANA

This view shows the headquarters of the Bowdoin Wildlife refuge, located a few miles east of Malta on highway 2.

“Howdy, Pardner!”

Located at the junction of Highways 2 and 19 in the center of a vast livestock and wheat raising and irrigated farming area is Malta, Montana, an old cowtown gone modern, retaining the color of the Old West while offering all the conveniences expected by the discerning traveler.

Twenty-five hundred neighborly and progressive Montanians make their homes in Malta, seat of Phillips county, on the site of which the first trading post was established in 1880. Settlement began after the Great Northern railway reached Malta in 1887. The city is rich in the lore of the cowboy since Malta was, at the turn of the century, the headquarters for the last of the big open range cattle outfits with the Circle Diamond and the T Down Bar, among others, grazing their herds on the lush grass of northern Montana and southern Saskatchewan.

Located about 60 miles southwest of Malta are Zortman and Landusky, colorful little communities which nestle in the Little Rocky mountains and dream of the days when they were the scene of a frenzied gold rush and when their twisting gulches yielded untold riches to those fortunate enough to make a strike and strong enough to protect it. The Little Rockies are now a scenic side-trip for the tourist and offer excellent camping and picnicking sites.

Farther to the south is the Missouri Breaks country, fabled hide-out of train-robbing Kid Curry and the most magnificent panorama in Montana's Plains country. This area abounds in wild game, and the Breaks overlook breathtaking Fort Peck lake, one of the largest man-made bodies of water in the world.

Malta is the center and the headquarters of the huge Milk River Irrigation project, one of the oldest reclamation systems in the U.S. About 20 miles northeast of Malta is Nelson reservoir, part of the irrigation project's extensive network of dams and reservoirs. The reservoir provides an ideal site for fishing and aquatic recreation. The neighboring American Legion Plunge offers complete accommodations for the tourist while the medicinal qualities of its waters make it a haven for those seeking relief from the pains of the body. A regatta held at Nelson reservoir each summer is eagerly awaited by Montana's boating enthusiasts.

The Plunge Pool and all its services are in operation the year 'round. Patronage is virtually as heavy in the wintertime as it is during mild weather, particularly by people who seek physical benefit from the hot water.

A spacious public park on the edge of Malta offers complete facilities for those hardy souls who would camp out within walking distance of the city.

An active saddle club in the city of Malta has played a big part in developing the park and on July 4 each year sponsors a gymkhana in the arena and race track which border the park.

On May 24 each year, the Malta Commercial club sponsors International Friendship day and all Canadians are invited to visit Malta and take part in the festivities.

The Phillips County Fair and Rodeo, staged each year since 1916, is held annually during the first week end in August at Dodson, 18 miles west of Malta.

About six miles east of Malta on highway 2 is the Bowdoin National Wildlife refuge. The presence of this sanctuary operated by the federal fish and wildlife service and many natural advantages make the Malta area one of the finest migratory waterfowl hunting regions in Montana.

Malta's public school system is one of the finest and most modernly equipped and housed in Montana. The new community hospital was opened three years ago and provides Phillips county with the most advanced in surgical and medical facilities. The taxpayers of the city last year approved a bond issue to finance construction of a new swimming pool which it is hoped will be in use before the end of 1955's summer.

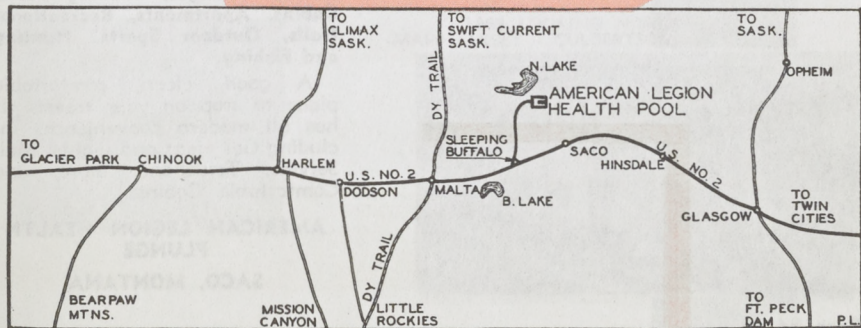

Malta is proud of its modern stores and of the wide variety of goods and services which its merchants and professional people offer. The business people strive to give courteous, attentive service to both resident and visitor. Adequate hotels and motels, restaurants, and places of amusement and recreation make Malta a desirable place for the tourist to spend an evening.

Situated on the mainline of the Great Northern railway, Malta enjoys daily service by the line's fast, luxurious transcontinental streamliners. The city's airport facilities are the most modern and provide complete service for the air traveler.

The Missouri river south of Malta is now the longest unbridged stretch of major rivers within the United States. That situation will be changed in 1957. According to present schedule a new bridge will be opened then at a point south of Malta and highway 19 will be paved south from Malta to offer Hi-Line residents and Canadian travelers a direct route to Lewistown, Billings and Yellowstone National Park.

Malta is a happy, prosperous, progressive community with a romantic history and a promising future. Its hand is always extended in a warm clasp of welcome.

In the language of the old-time cowpuncher, "The latch string is always out."

HEALTH PLUNGE

This unique recreation center, built around a well of gushing hot water, has become famous for its medicinal baths as well as for its recreational facilities.

Thousands of men and women have visited the plunge and been benefitted by bathing in the water in the 15 years since development of the project was undertaken by the Soil Conservation Service and the Phillips County Post of the American Legion, now Malta Post No. 57.

Clean and attractive showers and dressing rooms, an open pavilion with huge stone fireplaces where picnic groups or families may gather for a happy day or evening and two large recreational halls where larger groups may hold anything from a dancing party to a convention, are available at all times.

The Sleeping Buffalo

The sleeping buffalo seen in the lower right-hand corner of picture, is located on Highway No. 2, ten miles west of Saco and 17 miles east of Malta. Culbertson, Montana, population 800, is located in the northeastern corner of Roosevelt County and is one of the oldest towns in the State, being a way stop for travellers before the Great Northern railroad came through in 1887. Located on the Missouri River, this area was traversed by Lewis and Clark in 1805 and after Fort Union and Fort Buford were built, some thirty miles from the town on the North Dakota - Montana line, this area was gradually settled by trappers.

The town first consisted of two stage stations, one built by Tom Courchein, on whose homestead the town was built and the other by Jack Culbertson, for whom the town was named. Jack was the son of Major Alexandria Culbertson and his Indian Princess, Natawista, the daughter of a Canadian Indian Chief, Men-Es-To-Kos. A few log buildings and a log hotel with a post office formed the nucleus for the present town whose early settlers boast of having lived in four counties, Dawson, out of which Valley County was carved, then Sheridan and in 1919, Roosevelt.

Located but five miles from the Fort Peck Indian Reservation, the town boomed after the opening of the reservation in 1913 and homesteaders from all over the country threw up claim shanties and started dry farming. The early ranchers ran ten to twenty thousand head of cattle at a time, grazing the year around without shelter.

After years of crossing the river by ferry the bridge across the Missouri was officially dedicated on September 23, 1934.

Wheat farming and cattle raising are the two main industries, with fifty-five businesses and six churches, Catholic, Baptist, Lutheran, Methodist, Assembly of God and Re-organized Latter Day Saints taking care of the needs of the community. Two county offices are located in Culbertson, the Soil Conservation Department and the Extension Service. A fine Armory is headquarters for the First Battalion 163 Armed Cavalry Regiment under Lt. Col. Howard McKinney. It is also the home of the Roosevelt County Youth Fair. The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company have a large office with 20 employees and there is a doctor, dentist and optometrist available. A fine 15-bed hospital, Roosevelt Memorial, was completed in 1952 and the public library is open six days a week. A theatre, hotel, several restaurants, motels and year around river fishing, make this a friendly stop for tourists.

A fine school system, with a large 64 piece band and a basketball team that won the 1955 Class C tournament, welcomes new students.

An active Lions Club, with President Amos Moore and Secretary Bert Floman in charge, takes care of the service needs of the community. Other organizations include the Masonic Lodge, Eastern Star, American Legion, Legion Auxiliary, Federated Woman's Club, Extension Club and V.F.W. and its auxiliary.

This material was compiled by the Searchlight, one of the first newspapers in Montana and having served the community since 1902, now owned by Vukelich and Downs; Editor, Winona Sparks. Mayor, E. E. Bonebright; Clerk, E. F. Garbe.

THE LAST FRONTIER!

The State of Montana is well known to most visitors to the north western plains of the United States. Along U.S. Highway No. 2 especially you will see numerous historical markers. For instance, Fort Union signs describing the fur trading post which was located 14 miles south-east of the sign on the highway. This fort was built by the American Fur Trading Company in 1828 for trading with the Assiniboine Indians.

The Montana Highway Department's roadside historical markers were written by Bob Fletcher. He admonishes "Travellers who cut a lot of oldtime trails to— just turn your fancy loose to range the plains and mountains and if your imagination isn't hobbled, you can people them with pictures and phantoms of the past." You will find them of interest and written in colorful, picturesque, old west style.

Montana port of entry — westbound travellers from other states are urged to stop here. They will be welcomed by official greeters from the State Highway Commission, given maps, information and every assistance possible for an enjoyable visit in the state.

We, the State of Montana, wish to extend greetings to our neighbour province across our unfortified border. We congratulate you, Saskatchewan, for your pioneering achievement, your people for their undying faith in unity of purpose. "Uncle Sam" wishes you well on your Golden Jubilee, to you Health, Wealth and Prosperity for the future.

COUNTY SEAT OF ROOSEVELT COUNTY

Wolf Point, Montana is a thriving city of 3,723 inhabitants. Northeast Montana is primarily a spring wheat and cattle country, and Wolf Point is very fortunate in being strategically located as the rail and road center of this area and thereby the trade center. The major portion of the Williston Oil Basin is in Roosevelt County, and since Wolf Point is the county seat, the major oil companies and service units have located in Wolf Point.

A SALUTE TO OUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS IN SASKATCHEWAN

Wolf Point is located in the northeast corner of Montana; 60 miles south of the Canadian border and 80 miles west of the North Dakota border. It is right on the north shore of the Missouri River. The Lewis and Clark Expedition passed here, westward bound, in 1805. Fur trappers and traders followed a few years later. Steamboats began traveling from St. Louis up the Missouri River as far as Fort Benton in the early 60's and Wolf Point was the halfway point between Bismarck and Fort Benton.

Wood choppers supplied cord wood for boats stopping here to refuel.

An American Fur Company Packet blew up and burned here. A deck hand tapped a barrel of alcohol by candle light. The fumes and the candle plus 25 kegs of dynamite did the rest.

In 1928, Wolf Point was the largest inland wheat exporting point in the world. The Bureau of Reclamation has its head office for this area in Wolf Point, and the proposed Missouri River Diversion Dam Irrigation Project will have its headquarters in Wolf Point, also.

Tourist accommodations are plentiful as we have three modern motels and cabins and two hotels. One hotel has 117 modern rooms.

WOLF POINT, MONTANA

Church and school facilities are excellent in Wolf Point with several new churches and two new schools. We are the only city of its size in Montana to have all of the streets paved. Complete, modern hospital facilities are also available.

Wolf Point is on the Fort Peck Indian Reservation which is made up of Sioux and Assiniboiné Indians. Chief Sitting Bull spent his remaining days near here after the Custer Massacre.

Wolf Point is located on the main line of the Great Northern Railroad and U.S. Highway No. 2. Highway No. 13 comes into Wolf Point from the South and North and crosses the Missouri River here. This is the only bridge across the Missouri River for a distance of 350 miles.

Wolf Point has grown gradually and consistently over the years and definitely has a future. Our success and welfare is due 100% to the farmers and cattlemen of the trade area, and we feel that our rural people are the best in the world. They are honest, industrious and just good people.

The story of the naming of Wolf Point has as many versions as Wolf Point had early residents. A party of trappers poisoned hundreds of wolves one winter, hauled the frozen carcasses in and stacked them on a point on the Missouri River until spring for skinning. Therefore, the name "Wolf Point." It taught the varmints a lesson. No one in Wolf Point has been bothered by a wolf at the door since then.

THE GEYSERS

Yellowstone's geysers are celebrated the world over; for size, power, variety of action, and number, the region has no competitor. Altogether, there are about 10,000 separate and distinct thermal features. Most geysers are located in seven principal basins — Norris, Lower, Midway, Upper, Thumb, Heart Lake, and Shoshone. Some, like Old Faithful, Daisy, and Riverside, erupt at regular intervals; others are irregular. In the geyser basins the material making up the walls of the cracks and tubes of the geysers is of silica and strong enough to withstand the explosive action of the steam. A less strong material, such as travertine, will not withstand this explosive action and hence will not produce geysers.

YELLOWSTONE LAKE

A scenic attraction of the first order, Yellowstone Lake is the largest body of water in North America at so great an altitude. Lying 7,731 feet above sea level, it covers 139 square miles and has a shore line of about 100 miles. Its maximum depth is 300 feet. At the outlet of the lake is the famous Fishing Bridge.

GRAND CANYON OF THE YELLOWSTONE

If there were no geysers or other hot-water phenomena in Yellowstone, the spectacular Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone River alone would warrant national park status. It is the cameo of canyons, with the dominant color, particularly on a sunny day, yellow or a glaring white. Closer inspection, however, reveals a great variety of colors.

POPLAR CITY

MONTANA

The people of Poplar through its Chamber of Commerce take this means of congratulating the pioneers of Saskatchewan on their Golden Jubilee, and may your growth and our friendship continue during the years to come.

Poplar, Montana, is a thriving city of 2,509 population. Located as it is in northeast Montana, Poplar is in the heart of a rich wheat and cattle country. While the economy of the community is basically agricultural, Poplar is the home of the largest producing oil field in Eastern Montana and the Montana portion of the famed Williston Basin. Since this high producing field bears the name of "Poplar Field" the city has come to be known as "The Oil City."

Poplar is situated on the main line of the Great Northern Railroad and is on Highway 2, the main east and west highway through the northern part of the United States and the direct route to the Glacier Park vacation land and the Pacific northwest.

The town is also served by a bus line which provides two buses each way, every 24 hours. Truck lines also provide additional service in importing and exporting commodities. Also nearing completion is the Regina-Yellowstone trail, which is the shortest route from Canada to Highway 2 and intersects with this highway just east of Poplar. The RY trail leads through the rich Poplar oil field.

Poplar has one of the two completely lighted airports in this area. One runway is 4,400 feet long while the shorter one is 2,700 feet long. Both are of turf 150 feet wide. The airport is located right on the highway at the east edge of the city.

The town has three fine hotels and a large modern motel to accommodate tourists and business visitors in the city. There are also ample trailer accommodations with spaces for 200 trailer homes in four parks.

The community sets on high ground overlooking the Missouri River to the south and the Poplar River to the north and west.

The Fort Peck Indian Agency is located in Poplar and serves the Assiniboine and Sioux Indians living on the reservation. It is also the headquarters for the reservation's tribal government or executive board.

The city has just completed construction of a new $375,000 grade school which is one of the most modern educational units in Montana. The city also has excellent high school and junior high school facilities. Just completed on the school campus is a new lighted athletic field for baseball and football, which is also available for city use.

There are some excellent fishing and boating spots in the Poplar and Missouri river and in nearby Chelsia lake where boat races are held each July 4.

The community is served by several active churches with most of the usual denominations being represented. The city has an excellent city hospital and in addition there is a private hospital and the government hospital for Indians.

Poplar is a major wheat shipping point and the largest single shipping center for oil in the area. Since oil was discovered in the Poplar field in 1952, more than 5,000,000 barrels of crude oil have been shipped from Poplar. The Poplar field has the highest producing oil well in Montana, and is the northern terminus for a new $20,000,000 pipeline now under construction to serve the Williston basin. The field has recently been extended by a new discovery and more exploration is expected during the summer of 1955.

The city has grown rapidly in recent years and the number of telephones and the use of electric power and gas has increased almost 100% since 1950.

The city has a public library, an armory where many public meetings are held, a fine picnic park and overnight camping spot located on the Poplar River just north of town. The Poplar American Legion Post has a fine cocktail lounge and bar which is open to the public and with a large ballroom or banquet room in connection.

The city is served by natural gas as well as ample electricity for power, generated only a short distance to the west at the Fort Peck dam, largest earth filled dam in the world. There is excellent long distance telephone service, including mobilphone and teletype facilities. Poplar has the best water in the entire area, and that one fact alone makes Poplar an enjoyable and refreshing stop for tourists.

While the town is served by the retail, professional and service firms usually found in a city of this size, it also has some excellent openings for new enterprises, that merit investigation.

Highlight events this coming season are the Saddle Club rodeo July 2 and 3, the annual boat races July 4 and the annual Oil Discovery Days which is held each year about September 1.

During the coming summer Poplar is undergoing a complete re-paving project, in which the business and residential areas will be completely repaved at a cost of $175,000.

You will find the people of Poplar are friendly and live up to all one expects when he speaks of true western hospitality. The welcome sign is always out for our good friends and neighbours from Canada.

AS A TRADE CENTER

The Great Falls retail and wholesale trading area takes in a radius of approximately 120 miles north, 60 miles south, 400 miles east and 130 miles west, comprising 16 counties.

This trade area contains the center of population for Montana, center of annual total production, center of automobile registrations, and center of agricultural production.

FISHING AND HUNTING

Mother Nature was generous in providing Great Falls hunters and fishermen with a chance to practice their arts. Federal forests, public lands and private areas where birds, fish and wild game abound, lie in every direction from the city.

In the summer the fisherman has a multitude of choices. He may fish stream, river, or lake. Such streams as Smith River, Highwood, Dearborn, Belt and Tenderfoot Creeks provide the basis for good fishing and fine picnic spots. The Sun and Teton Rivers with their roots in the high slopes of the Rocky Mountains draw hundreds to their respective canyons as they burst out onto the plains laden with mountain-chilled trout.

The year around the Missouri River attracts the most fishermen. Every day in the year at least one fisherman can be found along its banks between Hardy Bridge and Wolf Creek.

The name, Shelby, originated when the Great Northern was built through here in 1890-91. It was named for Peter P. Shelby, then superintendent of the Montana lines.

At that time, historians relate that the site was the junction of the GN and the Great Falls & Canada Ry line running from Lethbridge south to Shelby and Great Falls. There were no buildings but the point was naturally strategic and it grew from the very first. Now the city is one of the most progressive in the state with an estimated population of over 4,000. Fine schools and business buildings are conveniently located. A new quarter of a million dollar hospital was completed recently and homes costing $50,000 and up are not uncommon. Natural gas comes from nearby Kevin-Sunburst field. The oil industry, which came in during the early 1920's has been of great importance to the city.

There are churches of all denominations and visitors in the city are always welcome. The B. P. O. E. recently completed a fine building. There are numerous lodge and auxiliary units, Chamber of Commerce, Lions and other civic organizations that carry out instructive and progressive programs. Stores in the city are unexcelled and several of them compare favorably with metropolitan stores. Service stations, garages and machinery dealers carry all major name brands in their lines. There is a fine new baseball park on the northside. Hotels and tourist courts are excellent.

Shelby is some times termed the "Crossroads of North Montana," due to its strategic location. Highway No. 91 direct from Mexico to Alaska intersects transcontinental No. 2, and the main line of the Great Northern railway intersects its line running from the border southward to Kansas City. These important advantages gives the city an ideal location for fast and important travel or freight transportation to and from any part of the nation. Also a new and modern airport is located just north of the city and connections can be made with most of the major air lines.

Saskatchewan is famous as the great wheat-producing province of Canada. Saskatchewan's agricultural record has been a remarkable one, but there are other and less well-known sides to the picture which are none the less important to the provincial economy.

For instance, nearly two-thirds of this western province is a land of forests, lakes and rivers, with great potential wealth in timber, fur and fish, and with unexcelled possibilities as a vacation land.

Here countless lakes, set in the midst of a vast wilderness, teem with a wide variety of fish, including lake trout, whitefish, northern pike and pickerel, all fine, firm, good, table fish. The Arctic grayling too, guaranteed to give fly fishermen thrills worth travelling miles for, is found in a number of lakes toward the northern fringe of the province.

Among the more prominent of provincial parks in Saskatchewan are Cypress Hills, a heavily-wooded area in the southwest of the province; Kenosee, on the southeast of the province; Good Spirit, which lies just off Highway No. 9, north of Yorkton; Madge Lake, located north and east of Yorkton; Little Manitou, one of the provinces better known provincial parks, located near the town of Watrous in Central Saskatchewan, on one of the main north-south provincial highways, Highway No. 2; Katepwa, located in the valley of the Qu'Appelle River and near the town of Fort Qu'Appelle.

Another provincial park which has proved exceptionally popular with tourists is Lac La Ronge, which might well be described as Saskatchewan's vacation spot of the future. This is the jumping off spot for many who want to enter the wilderness of northern Saskatchewan in search of the lake trout and Arctic grayling. In fact, Lac La Ronge itself is one of the largest in Saskatchewan and is well supplied with northern pike and lake trout and pickerel.

Saskatchewan's one federal park, Prince Albert National Park, is by far the best known of our resort areas. It is situated in the central part of Saskatchewan and contains an area of 1,496 square miles and is an outstanding example of the lake and woodland country which lies north of the great agricultural prairies.

An outstanding feature of the park is its remarkable lake system. Hundreds of lakes, varying in size from tiny rock basins to bodies of water twenty miles long, dot the landscape. White sand beaches line the shores of many of these crystal lakes, which reflect the surrounding forests. Under normal water conditions these lakes form connected waterways and provide exceptional opportunities for canoe and boat trips. The largest and best known are Waskesiu, Kingsmere, Crean and the Hanging Heart Lakes.

Of these lakes, Waskesiu is the centre of the system with the townsite of Waskesiu situated at the eastern end of Lake Waskesiu. It contains all the services customarily found in a modern community and is the centre of park activity. There is a post office, long distance telephone communication, excellent hotel, motel and cabin accommodation, one of the finest golf courses in the province, lawn bowling, tennis, roller skating, horseback riding, and all other features of a modern up-to-date resort.

The park is reached over the main provincial highway system which connects the park with highways extending from the southern and eastern boundaries. The main approach is from the City of Prince Albert to the southeast, a distance of 69 miles from Waskesiu.

Saskatchewan is located on two of the main flyways of wild fowl and the fall of the year sees literally millions of ducks and geese flock into the province on their way to their southern wintering grounds.

Wheat, oil, gas, mixed farming all bring their share of wealth into Saskatchewan but another large addition to the provincial economy is provided by the lumber industry. Saskatchewan is almost two thirds park and timber land and this is slowly being converted into wealth producing land through the timber industry.

Here are three historic photographs depicting Saskatchewan as it was more than 50 years ago. At the top is a picture of the North West Territorial Council as it sat in North Battleford in 1884. The second picture is an actual photograph of a sod house used in the early days of Saskatchewan settlement. The bottom photo shows a general store operated by John Love at Grenfell in the 1890's.

This is the famous photograph of the whooping cranes which was taken in 1953 in Saskatchewan by Fred Lahrman, a field worker for the provincial Museum. In one picture, Mr. Lahrman has caught three of these rare birds, or one-eighth of their world's population, in flight.

Now a move is underway to have this striking photograph of the whoopers used on Canada's airmail stamp. Natural history enthusiasts, philatelists and government officials are supporting the proposal. They feel it would be an excellent way to publicize the cranes and the need to take all precautions to save them from complete extinction. "It is an excellent picture of an extra-ordinary bird," said Prof. W. Rowan, Department of Zoology, University of Alberta. "It may be 1,000 years, or never, before anything as good is obtained."

The Regina and Saskatoon Industrial Exhibitions provide race fans with their chance to back their favorite horse. This year the racing takes place in Saskatoon the week of July 25 to 30, inclusive, and in Regina from August 1 to August 6, inclusive.

Donnell Culpepper of Long Beach, California, weighs a 19-pound northern pike on the scales. He had just taken it from the waters of Black Lake in northern Saskatchewan.

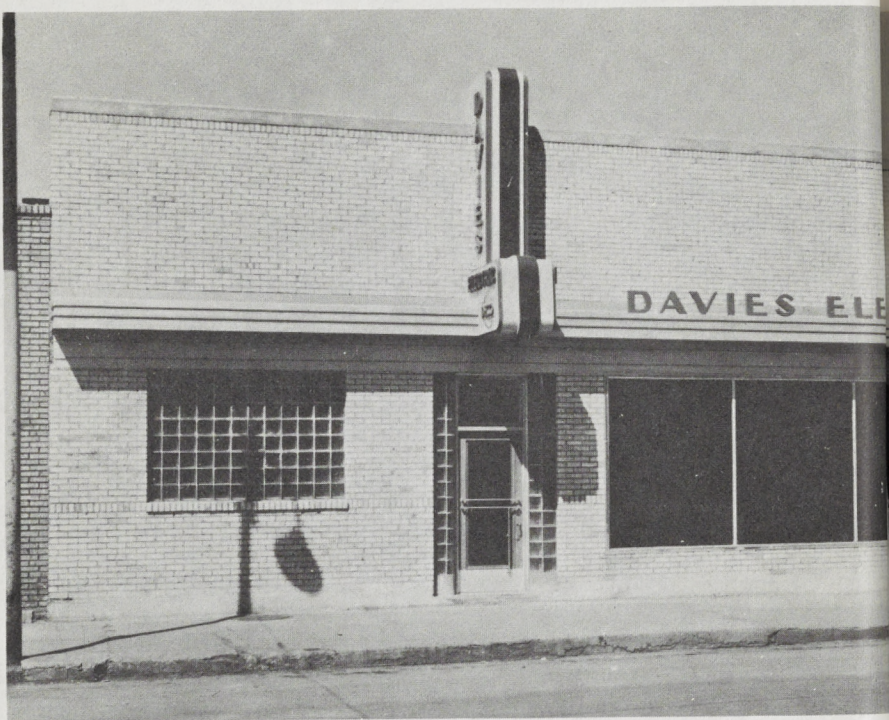

Many historians and pioneers of Saskatchewan say that this province was born through the work and toughness of the Red River carts. To mark the part played in the history of our province by this cart, the government commissioned an old English wheelwright, Mr. Harry Ford, to construct from original drawings and pictures some 15 of these carts. They were then placed at various historic trails throughout the province.
